I am writing to express my concerns regarding Xavier's abandonment of its core Jesuit values and the administration's lack of transparency. The university has not truly listened to students and faculty and a lack of transparency is occurring. By letting Tala Ali and Professor Van Horn go, you have made clear you are not on the side of justice. These actions cast aside our core values including "solidarity and kinship" and "justice rooted in service and love," showing that not everyone is welcome at Xavier University.

It is up to you to be transparent in your actions. These faculty have assisted students of all backgrounds in understanding how to question, learn and truly "set the world on fire." I am calling on you to defend our religious guideposts and exemplify the phrase "all for one and one for all." Reinstate Dr. Van Horn, hold real student forums and truly listen to the needs of students, staff and faculty. Do not turn a blind eye and ignore the concerns of so many. If Xavier University is truly committed to the Jesuit values, then you must take action and stand up for everyone.
